

Janita Ryan is a Melbourne based artist who revels in producing highly detailed work. The VCA graduate houses her paintings in ornate baroque inspired resin, plaster and metal frames, embellishing them with figurines, garlands and bud lights. Two major themes dominate Ryan's practice, imaging the Anthropocene and examining the agency, or lack of agency of women.