

Born in Austria, Sylvia Galos painted in all her youth. After her studies at the University of Applied Arts in Vienna, she worked as a graphic designer. After 35 years in advertising, she returned as an artist in 2009 and now lives and works in Mallorca. Besides the intensive cooperation with renowned art teachers and artists, she developed into an autodidact.

Guided by inner impulses, her pictures are created from spontaneous brushstrokes, which often remain in this form. Others experience changes - diffuse becomes concrete, concrete becomes abstract. Many pictures are inspired by the colours of her favourite island Mallorca, the special light, the blue sea and the ferrous earth. But there are also powerful pictures in which intense red predominates. She also likes to reduce her pictures to large white areas, which lose none of their vitality due to the numerous underlying layers.

Sylvia Galos is always on the lookout for something new and doesn't want to remain faithful to any style, only to herself. Her pictures usually have no titles. She likes to give the viewer the opportunity to find his individual interpretations.

In recent years Sylvia Galos has had solo exhibitions in Austria and Mallorca and has participated in various exhibitions in Austria, Germany, the Czech Republic, Hungary, Italy, Greece, Mallorca and Beijing.