

I was born in Chichester, West Sussex, England in 1976. I have studied Fine Art to MA level and now create art in various mediums from print and paint to sculptures and installations, as well as illustrating and working as a scenic artist. I also curate group shows with the I Heart Art Collective and am currently writing a Graphic Novel about a day in the life of an art gallery.