Steve Light is an emerging artist, working primarily in acrylics, watercolours, oils and marker pen. He often employs bright colours into portraiture in a semi-illustrative style.

“My Art mainly revolves around portraiture but cityscapes also deeply inspire me. I’ve always loved drawing since an early age, so I normally create my art through drawing and painting. I’m trying to communicate a useful message underneath my work, whether it about life, death or a beautiful city skyline, there’s an underlying message of ‘hope’ to take from it.”
